Together for Inclusion: Enhancing Educator-Parent Partnerships in Early Childhood

What is the Inclusion Community of Practice (Southside)?

The Inclusion Community of Practice for Early Childhood Educators (Southside) is a Community of Practice facilitated by EACH in partnership with the Southside Initiative (YWCA, Woden Community Services and Community Services #1).

What are the aims of the Inclusion Community of Practice (Southside)?

The Inclusion Community of Practice aims to build capacity of the Early Childhood Education and Care (ECEC) sector in response to industry specific challenges. The Inclusion Community of Practice will support centres to build their capacity and capability to sustain the enrolment and inclusion of all children. The Inclusion Community of Practice also aims to support educators with a safe space to talk openly about challenges they are facing regarding inclusion.

Who can attend Inclusion Community of Practice (Southside) sessions?

We invite early childhood educators, teachers, directors, and managers who work on the southside of ACT to attend.

About the session:

Educator, parent and carer partnerships are crucial in supporting all children, as they create a unified approach to meet the child's unique needs. When educators, parents and carers collaborate, they share valuable insights, strategies, and resources, ensuring consistent support both at school and at home. By working together, educators and parents can better advocate for the child, promote self-confidence, and create tailored learning experiences. This teamwork fosters an inclusive environment where children can thrive.

Join us for this Inclusion Community of Practice Session where we will explore the critical role of educator, parent and carer partnerships in supporting all children. Through collaborative discussions, shared experiences, and practical strategies, we'll examine how strong communication, and teamwork can enhance personalized support for each child.
